

LSSU Catholic Newman Center

Article I

The Lake Superior State University Catholic Newman Center. The Catholic Newman Center is devoted to the spiritual, social and educational growth of the students at Lake Superior State University, through the programs and atmosphere provided.

Article II

To join the Catholic Newman Center, you only need to notify the director of the center or one of the residents. Events and programs are open to all who wish to come.

Article III

The Catholic Newman Center is headed by the priest of St. Joseph's Catholic Church and overseen by a housing director. The Newman Center and its programs are maintained and ran by the residents and members. One of the residents or members is then chosen by the student director to be the campus representative, or president.

Article IV

The Newman Center runs a number of programs ranging from food and fellowship, to Bible study. The purpose of these programs is to grow spiritual, social, and intellectually.

Article V

The terms of residents are outlined in a contract signed at the beginning of the semester. The decision on the removal of a resident shall be made according to the contract. All members are welcome, removal of a program or activity that is requested shall be made by the housing director.