How the Walk Works

Women and Men are recruited to serve as team captains. They secure as many people to walk as necessary to hit the team goal of $500.00. Each team member contacts people by mail, phone or in person to obtain donations. These donations apply to the individual walker's total and the team goal, which qualifies them for incentive prizes.

Why you should be a part of the Lake Superior State Women's Walk

Student-athletes at Lake Superior State University understand that they represent their teams, the University and the community every time they take to the court or playing field. They are looking forward to joining you for an event that will benefit their programs and be fun for all. Making good choices and finding the best opportunities to grow personally, physically and academically are challenges for our female athletes. The evolution of the LSSU Women's Walk will better their chances of having success in and out of the classroom, and long after their playing days have ended.

LSSU has seven women's varsity athletic teams, all of which require funding from outside sources in order to keep up with the financial demands of competing on a national Division II scale. With your help, our female athletes will develop the self-discipline, leadership and teamwork skills in order to become the future leaders of our community.
