

Lake Superior State University Living Learning Community Application

When academics or personal interests intersect with the living environment, students grow and learning is enhanced. Lake Superior State University offers a variety of residential living learning communities that allow students with similar academic interests or career goals to live and study together in community.

At LSSU Living Learning Communities are located in the Row Houses and provide a smaller, more intimate environment for the exploration of a specific field of study. By thinking, studying, living and learning with others who share and understand their aspirations, students can maximize both their academic and personal experiences at LSSU. Each community is associated with an academic department or organization. Every LLC also has a dedicated faculty or staff member to make the program stimulating and fun.

Find yourself in a Living-Learning Community!

- Meaningful faculty connections
- Network of students from similar interests
- Activities designed to complement your academic/career goals
- Connections to life-long friends

Living Learning Community (LLC) Application Instructions

1. To be eligible to apply, the student must be in one of the appropriate majors or an active member in an appropriate student organization (see below) and have a preferred GPA*** of a 3.5 (if entering from high school) or a 3.2 (if a transfer student). Please note that some Living Learning Communities (LLCs) do require an interview as part of the application. The advisor will contact you to set up your interview, if needed.
2. Living Learning Community offers will be extended via email. Students will be given a limited amount of time from the date of the email offer to confirm their membership. All documents received will be confirmed by the Campus Life and Housing Office and Academic Advisor of the LLC.
3. In order to be eligible to receive a Living Learning Community offer, students must also have a completed housing application on file and be admitted to the University.
4. After completing the housing application, complete and submit the Living Learning Community Application (Section II and III). LLC application may be completed prior to making advanced room and board payment of $200 plus damage deposit of $150 damage deposit (due with your housing application). Living Learning Communities are a high room rate compared to the traditional style housing. Visit www.lssu.edu/housing/room-and-board-rates/ for more information.
5. The Living Learning Community application is separate, and not a substitute for, the LSSU housing application.
6. Questions about the Living Learning Communities should be directed to the academic advisor(s) listed below, or to the Campus Life and Housing Office at (906) 635-2411.
7. All applications must be submitted to the Campus Life and Housing Office located in Cisler 125 to be considered.

***Laker Hall (Fisheries and Wildlife Club) does not have a GPA requirement.
